THE ART OF PURE INDULGENCE

An intimate sanctuary where luxury and serenity blend in perfect balance.

The Spa at Hôtel & SPA des Pêcheurs offers an exclusive collection of rejuvenating treatments, crafted in collaboration with prestigious brands such as Lajatica and La Mer, and perfected by the expert hands of our skilled therapists.

Each ritual is an invitation to surrender, to reconnect with oneself, and to indulge in a profound sense of well-being.

COMBINING TRADITION & INNOVATION

LAJATICA is a high-performance wine cosmetics line for 100% natural beauty by the Bocelli 1831 wine estate, the first line of wine-based cosmetics made entirely in the agricultural sphere from the cultivation of the grape to harvest, to wine, to the transformation in the cosmetic laboratory to the finished packaged products. All LAJATICA products have a powerful antioxidant effect and therefore help to combat ageing, as oxidation is responsible for causing the tissue to age. LAJATICA's standout feature, however, is its high concentration of grape polyphenols, particularly resveratrol. Resveratrol is known as "the molecule of eternal youth". Dr David Sinclair of Harvard Medical School has called it the best anti-ageing molecule available today.

LA MER

THE SECRET OF THE SEA

The mere mention of Crème de la Mer inspires intrigue, adoration and a cult-like devotion. The journey began when Dr. Max Huber suffered burns in an experiment gone awry and set out to create his own destiny. Aerospace physicist by day, stargazer and dreamer by night, he hoped to unlock the healing power of the sea he held so dear. 6,000 experiments and 12 years of searching led to the epiphany of a lifetime - a fermentation process that transformed sea kelp and other pure ingredients into the miracle that would help transform the look of his skin. In honour of his muse, he called it Crème de la Mer. A unique, luxury escape with exclusive Miracle Broth™. Deeply personalized facials are highlighted with a pure concentration of Miracle Broth™ - a priceless extract exclusive to the spa experience. Signature body treatments infuse skin with life. Mind and body harmonize as vibrational energies bring each session to a gentle close.
